

Show The Planet A Little Love - Earth Day '22

April 22 is Earth Day. For most people, it's just another one of those holidays like Arbor Day or Groundhog's Day that gets a moment or two of passing thought...but that's about it.

As a home services business, what we do means we are naturally concerned with how our services impact with the world around us

Electricity waste, even from ceiling fan or light left on, adds up over time. Ask us how we can upgrade your property's lighting and electrical systems to help you become more efficient

Energy Saving Earth Day Tips

You don't need to go out and plant a tree to celebrate Earth Day (though it wouldn't hurt!). There are many simple steps you can take to help save some energy, help the planet, and protect your wallet - all at the same time!

- Take The Time To Properly Recycle
  - It's true that proper recycling practices take a little bit of extra effort - but it is worth a few minutes of our time to avoid needlessly contributing to landfills. Check in your county or city waste management website to make sure you're working to maximize your efforts by depositing the right materials into your recycle bin.
- Eat Local Food
  - For the most part, food that is locally sourced requires less resources than those products that must be processed and shipped in from out of the area. Find a local farmer's market or butcher and try sourcing a few ingredients for your week's meals.
- Hit The Switch To Save Big
  - While more energy-efficient appliances and LED lighting conversions can certainly make an impact, there is a low tech option as well - simply turn off lights, fans, TV, and electronics when they aren't in use.
