Tips For Staying Warm This Fall

Don't let the cooler weather keep you down! We've got some simple tips and tricks for getting (and staying) warm this fall and winter.

- Treating Yourself To The Right Beverage
 - While most of us think about hot apple cider or cocoa as a treat to warm up in the fall, that's more psychological than physical. Drinking cooler beverages actually raises your body's core temperature to counteract the chilly liquid.
- Reverse Your Ceiling Fan
 - Your ceiling fan has a small toggle switch on its body. This reverses the direction to push rising warm air back down toward floor level. Just don't forget to dust it off first, as changing directions will let loose any dust bunnies that may have collected on top of those fan blades.
- Preventative Heating System Care
 - Seasonal Maintenance is the key to smooth HVAC operation. Your home's heating systems should be evaluated before the first big drop in temperature. Schedule your furnace and heating equipment tune-up to make sure you're in good shape for the cold.
