Simple Tips For Saving Energy This Summer

No one likes those high summer energy bills, but everyone still wants to stay comfortable at the same time. We've got a few simple tips for reducing your energy bills without making too much fuss this summer.

- Turn On Those Bathroom & Kitchen Exhaust Fans - Using your bathroom and kitchen exhaust fans when you use those rooms is more about getting the humidity out of your property than anything else. Drier air will help you to feel cooler without needing to drop your thermostat.
- Grilling Out For Energy Efficiency - What's big summer energy than firing up the grill? Aside from making it taste more like summer, cooking outside means you're not warming up your kitchen with the oven or stove.
- Close Those Curtains & Blinds - Sunlight coming into your home can be a surprising source of heat for some. Even with the most efficient windows, the direct light of the sun also brings heat. Pull your curtains and close the blinds to reduce intruding light and heat, especially if you're not in the room to enjoy the view anyways.
- Use Ceiling Fans - Instead of relying solely on air conditioning, use fans to circulate air. Ceiling fans, in particular, can make a room feel several degrees cooler and use significantly less energy than air conditioners. And with our help - they are very easy to add to any room in your home!
